SALINAS CITY, MONTEREY COUNTY, CAL.

REFERRING to the map of California you will find the County of Monterey to be in the center of the western side of the State, between the parallels of  $35^{\circ} 30'$  and  $37^{\circ}$  north. Tracing these lines on a map of the United States to the Mississippi Valley, we find near them St. Louis, Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati; and on the Atlantic Coast, Washington, D. C.; Raleigh, N. C., and Richmond, Va. On the map of the world, across the Atlantic, we find the Mediterranean Sea, Southern Italy, the Islands of Malta, Sicily and Cypress, and across the Pacific, Central and Southern Japan, and the City of Tokio. Monterey County is four times as large as the State of Rhode Island, and something larger than that State and the State of Delaware put together, and it has an area of 3,600 square miles or 2,300,000 acres. The Coast Range separates the County from the San Joaquin Valley. The range here is, for the most part, of low altitude, and covered with nutritious grasses and valuable timber, with here and there an elevation of 4,000 or 5,000 feet. On the Monterey County side of this mountain boundary lies a great valley called the Salinas, with a width varying from six to fifteen miles and running nearly one hundred miles from northwest to southeast. Writing of this valley, a high authority said: "It is one of the most fertile valleys and one of the most productive, in proportion to its extent, in the State or in the United States. West of this valley are a number of rich, small connecting valleys lying in the coast system of hills and mountains. The County, with its rich valleys and grasses and timber-covered hills and mountains, is a highly favored spot. In it is room and resources for a larger population than the two States we have named. Everything that can be grown in those States can be grown here, besides some things that cannot be grown there, and all much more prolifically and profitably here than there. Near the center of this great valley lies Salinas City.

MAIN STREET, SALINAS CITY.

Salinas is a thrifty and enterprising city of about five thousand inhabitants, the capital of Monterey County, and has the most promising future of any city of its size in the Golden State.

It is judiciously and economically governed by a Mayor and Common Council, has wide and nicely graded streets, well laid out public parks, splendid public buildings, educational and otherwise, and substantial and attractive church edifices.

The residence streets are bordered with scores of artistic, expensive and elegant residences, (views of a few of which we give in this pamphlet,) to say nothing of the hundreds of cozy vine-covered cottages that, with its pretentious and substantial business blocks, go to make up the architectural attractiveness of the city.

Its public schools are of the highest class and include a High School system. There are church organizations of all of the leading religious denominations and the leading fraternities are also well represented by organized lodges, some of which have fine buildings and halls as homes for themselves and kindred organizations. The Native Sons of the Golden West have a thrifty parlor in Salinas, Troop C, N. G. C. is one of the most efficient and best drilled troops in the State, and the Masons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, Foresters, Dania and United Workmen have good lists of membership and well filled treasuries.

The people of Salinas are broad and liberal minded, enterprising and cultivated and society is well organized. They liberally support three daily and two weekly newspapers, the oldest of which, the Salinas Daily Journal, is news, and independent and has a circulation of almost one thousand copies.

Salinas is the commercial center of a wide strip of mountain and valley country, of which hay, grain, stock and the sugar beet are the chief products.

* CLIMATE AND HEALTH. *

The evenness of temperature the year around, with the pure ocean breezes is what gives health and vigor to the locality. The climate may fairly be called a semi-tropical one. The trade winds which blow from the ocean inland along the coast nearly all the year, are cold to the northward, but by the time they get this far south they are softened to the comfortable degree shown by the comparative table we give.

Observations, taken by priests and army officers for more than a century in the locality, show that some years the mean of summer and winter temperature has ranged only from  $6^{\circ}$  to  $13^{\circ}$  apart, and many years only  $9^{\circ}$  and  $10^{\circ}$ . The following carefully compared table presents the mean temperature compared with that of a number of places, some of them health resorts throughout the world.

THE BEST FLOUR.

Of course poor bread CAN be made from good flour by CARELESS MAKING but it is impossible to make GOOD BREAD FROM POOR FLOUR. Therefore be careful in the selection of your flour. The

DRIFTED SNOW

BRAND

Is peculiarly suited for family use, being especially manufactured for this purpose, and is acknowledged to be the BEST FAMILY FLOUR made. It is not only the BEST in quality, but is more economical than ordinary flours, because it requires MORE WATER in making the dough, hence makes more bread to the barrel. It remains moist, does not get dry and hard, and is stronger bodied and more nutritious. DRIFTED SNOW is a well-known (and thoroughly tested) flour, and is used by thousands. If you do not use it you should not delay in giving it a trial. REMEMBERING TO USE MORE WATER than in making up ordinary flours, and knead well. All leading Grocers sell DRIFTED SNOW flour. As every bag is guaranteed you can make no mistake in trying it, thereby convincing yourself of its superiority.

❖ L. U. GRANT, Contractor and Builder. ❖

Mr. Grant, now one of Salinas' most enterprising business men, arrived in this city some two years ago, and although a young man, has proved himself worthy of carrying out the work he has undertaken.

To him is due the credit of building up Salinas to a modern city. Through his enterprising efforts he has given Salinas one of the handsomest and best equipped Opera Houses on the Coast. The planning and furnishing by him has met with much satisfaction. Among the buildings erected by Mr. Grant, some of which are illustrated in this little pamphlet are Adam's brick block, costing $7000; Barlogio's brick block, $4000; Castroville School, $15,000; Bardin brick and stone block, $26,000; Riordan and Hauser brick and stone block, $8000; Opera House, $26,000; McGarvey brick block, $4000; Wallace brick and stone block, $6,000; Conklin Oregon sandstone block, $8000; B. V. Sargent, residence, $7500; L. G. Hare, residence, $2500; Charlotte Smith, residence, $5000; P. P. Krough, residence, $2300; Job Wood, $2800; St. Paul's Church, $5500, and some 100 cottages ranging in price from $750 to $2500.

Mr. Grant is always willing and ready to furnish estimates free of cost on building complete, which work, if secured, he always rushes through with the utmost rapidity. Mr. Grant has an office in the Conklin Block, but any matters addressed to him to P. O. Box 339 will reach him promptly.

HISTORY--A number of prominent business men having property interests in Monterey County, realizing the need of having a reliable, complete, and comprehensive system of Abstracts of all lands in said county, met in June, 1896, and organized the LAND TITLE COMPANY OF MONTEREY COUNTY. The capital stock was soon subscribed by over thirty stockholders and the Company purchased of the inventor the exclusive right for Monterey County to the use of "Rice's System of County Abstract," (patented June 2, 1896,) and thus acquired the right to the most perfect system of abstracts and property indexes in use anywhere.

RESULT: The Land Title Company of Monterey County is prepared to furnish more accurate and complete abstracts of lands in Monterey County on shorter notice than any other company. Why? Because it has the only complete property index in the County.

❖ TASSAJARA SPRINGS. ❖

The Springs are in Monterey County near the headwaters of the Carmel River. The road up the Carmel River from Salinas to the Springs is a beautiful and picturesque drive. At present the stage for the Springs leaves Salinas every Monday, Wednesday and Friday morning, landing passengers at the Springs in the afternoon of the same day.

The Springs are eighteen in number, and vary from cold to 145* in temperature.

The quantity of water is practically unlimited, and sufficient to supply the wants of thousands. The Springs burst from the mountain sides, and pour their thermal waters into the Arroyo Seco Creek. A beautiful waterfall of three hundred feet furnishes non-mineral pure mountain water for domestic use. The Arroyo Seco is a large mountain stream abounding with fish. A large lime quarry is on the grounds. The owner of the Springs burns lime on the grounds for building, while an inexhaustible sandstone quarry furnishes the stone. The hotel houses, hot-water tanks and plunge baths are all built of stone.

The waters are a positive cure for stomach, kidney, liver and rheumatic troubles, and a specific for all contagious diseases. Nervous disorders of all kinds are cured by the mild influence of these waters.

The climate is unsurpassed, the Springs being only eight miles from the Pacific Ocean, with high mountains between, which shut off the fog. The altitude is 1650 feet above the ocean level. Those who have visited the famous springs and watering places of Europe and the United States declare that the TASSAJARA HOT SPRINGS, in their combination of marvelous mineral waters, glorious California climate, altitude, and mountain streams, surpass them all.

* THE SALINAS BREWERY. *

The Salinas Brewery, owned by our enterprising citizen Mr. J. H. Menke, is situated about half a mile from Salinas City. It was erected in 1892 and the plant is one of the most complete on the Coast. The output is about 8000 barrels a year and the brewery, besides supplying Salinas City, also ships as far as Paso Robles and Santa Margarita.

The building is a substantial three-story frame structure and is fitted with the latest machinery for the brewing of steam beer.

On the ground floor is a 20-horse power steam engine, kettle and malt kiln, wash house, malt floor and filter room. On the first floor is the fermenting room, store-room, mash-tub and dryer, and on the top floor is the hot water tank, cooler and barley store-room. The output of the brewery can be increased to 9000 barrels in order to keep up with the rapidly increasing population of Salinas City. Mr. Menke, the genial and ever enterprising proprietor is one of the leading men of the city and was recently elected a member of the City Council.

❖ SALINAS SCHOOL SYSTEM. ❖

Salinas is well advanced in her public school system. There is an attendance of over six hundred in the several departments. The High School was first organized in 1882. In 1889 the course was lengthened to three years and was so revised as to prepare students to enter the University of California besides giving them a good education. In 1894 the Ninth Grade was established and given a course consisting of English, concrete, geometry, algebra, physical geography, English history, drawing and book-keeping or latin.

In the same year the High School was accredited by the University of California in elementary and advanced English, algebra, plane geometry, United States government, elementary and advanced latin, physics, ancient, medieval and modern history and botany, and received advanced credit in solid geometry, trigonometry and chemistry. In 1895 the course of study for the High School was revised so as to consist of algebra, plane and solid geometry, plane trigonometry, physics, chemistry, botany, physiology, English, Latin, German, French, Greek and Roman history, medieval, modern, and United States history and civil government. The elective system has been followed to some extent in the High School, half of the studies being prescribed. A thorough up-to-date High School building will soon be built to keep pace with the growth of the town, an election for the purpose of voting bonds for the erection of which has already been called.

The business department of the School system is ably managed by a City Board of Education composed of some of the most respected and painstaking citizens of the town, and whose judgment in the selection of teachers and other matters of importance has proven them thoroughly qualified for their task.
